A NOTE FROM JESS:

Dear friends of the Historic Winslow House Association,

My name is Jessica Dougherty; I am the new executive director of the Historic Winslow House Association. For those of you who have visited the house over the last few years I may be a familiar face. I have been an active volunteer and member of the programming committee since my husband, Aaron Dougherty, became director back in 2014.

After a long winter I can hear the welcome chirping of birds from my open window! This means spring is finally here and so is a brand new season of exciting programs and events at the Winslow House. Our countdown to 2020 continues as we prepare ourselves for a very special anniversary; the 100th birthday of the Historic Winslow House Association! As we often look back to our founding fathers (and mothers) for inspiration, we also are looking ahead to what comes next for this historic gem.

This year we will be workshopping some new and interactive programs to breathe life into the oldest parts of the museum. We will be looking to preserve and maintain the structure itself, raising funds to repair our roof, and attend to other issues that come with maintaining a structure as old as ours.

If you're receiving this letter, it's because I know you love and value this museum as much as I do. There is something unmistakably special about the old brown house on the corner of Careswell and Webster. I know I can count on your continued support by renewing your membership for the 2017 season, or attending our many diverse lectures, children's programs and special fundraising events. Or maybe you'll stop by for a tour and hear the remarkable stories of those who came before. In the spirit of what draws you to our museum, I humbly thank you for all your help and support in whatever form it takes!

The Winslow House has been a home to generations and, with your help and continued support, we can leave a light on for generations to come!

With heartfelt thanks,

Jessica Dougherty
Executive Director
Historic Winslow House Association

MARSHFIELD LOVES WINSLOW HOUSE!

With the return of spring comes the return of Marshfield residents who understand the importance of the Winslow House's role in our community and donate their time and hard work to get us ready for a brand new season! A special heartfelt thanks goes out to Troop 212, lead by MHS senior Julian Armijos, who have cleared a path between Winslow House and our neighbors, the Marshfield Historical Society. Julian raised funds to build a new entranceway to the path, grind down the stumps of old trees and place a new wooden bench halfway down the path! Over the course of three days he and his fellow troop members raked, cleared and built what is now an easy stroll from one historic site to another!

Special thanks also goes to Marshfield High Seniors participation in We Are Marshfield Day. The charity sent us a cheerful group of nine MHS seniors, many of whom remembered coming to visit us back in 3rd grade! They diligently cleared away the dust and cobwebs out of every nook and cranny (and Winslow House has more than a few!)

The Winslow House is always looking for volunteers to help with special programs, tours, and day to day activities. If you would like to learn more about the multitude of volunteer opportunities we have available, please email Jess at director@winslowhouse.org or call 781-837-5753.
